

By Willy Campbell

Choose Accounting Services Wisely

As you launch or expand a business, keeping track of the money, preparing tax returns and performing other financial tasks can quickly become a burden. If you need more time to do other things, it might make sense to turn over tax, accounting and other financial chores to outside specialists.

Choosing the right type of tax, accounting, bookkeeping or other financial help is an important decision. An outside accountant can be one of your most trusted business advisors and a key to your success. Although many business owners work with big national firms, most prefer to work with small independent firms or solo accounting professionals.

Accounting services differ from bookkeeping services. An accounting firm prepares financial statements and tax returns based on the numbers that you give them via your own in-house books. Bookkeeping services, if offered, will be extra. If you plan to use your own bookkeeper, make sure the person you choose is qualified. One way is to use the “Bookkeepers Hiring Test” available free from the American Institute of Professional Bookkeepers at their web site www.aipb.org.

Before selecting a certified public accountant (CPA) or other financial pro, list the services you think you need, such as tax preparation, financial reports, balance sheets, invoicing, payroll services, general bookkeeping or someone to set up your books. Some firms may handle it all, or you may need to split the tasks. CPA Directory is a huge online listing of CPAs nationwide and can help you find an accountant in your area. The web site also offers helpful advice on hiring and working effectively with a CPA. Visit www.cpadirectory.com. Don’t forget to check your Yellow Pages too.

And don’t forget about Enrolled Agents. EA’s are licensed by the Federal government to prepare tax returns. They have either worked for the IRS or have passed a regional IRS exam. They are savvy tax experts, but generally don’t have the degree of CPAs and tend to charge less. Visit the National Association of Enrolled Agents web site at www.naea.org.

Fees vary greatly among accountants, from $50 per hour to $300 or more. Some firms will provide a specified list of services for a flat monthly fee, and may provide less costly help for bookkeeping and other tasks that don’t require CPA-level training. If you are considering a larger accounting firm, find out which people you will be directly working with. Also try to match your general philosophy with a firm that is as conservative – or aggressive – as you are on tax matters.

To learn more about accounting issues, contact the Sandhills Chapter of SCORE “Counselors to America’s Small Business”. SCORE is a nationwide nonprofit association of expert business counselors who provide free and confidential business counseling to small business owners. The Sandhills Chapter is very active in counseling, mentoring and presenting free business seminars. It is currently expanding these activities and is seeking motivated volunteers. You can reach the Chapter via the web at www.sandhillsscore.org or at 910-692-3926. In addition the SCORE office in the Chamber of Commerce building is open 10am – 12 every Tuesday.

Remember – send your business questions to me at www.contact@sandhillsscore.org and don't forget to provide a way to contact you. I may not be able to answer all of them in this column but every one will receive a personal answer from one of our Sandhills SCORE counselors!